MINISTRY EXPERIENCE

Pastoral Ministry Experience

Mays Chapel Baptist Church (SBC), Bear Creek, NC: 11/2016 – Present

Pastor

The congregation of Mays Chapel Baptist Church—a seminally important church in NC Baptist life, which was founded in 1802 within the historic Sandy Creek Baptist Association—called me to be their bi-vocational pastor via unanimous (100%) affirmation vote on 11/06/2016. For over 200 years, this church has stood the test of time—being a gospel light throughout Chatham and Lee counties—and has planted numerous thriving SBC and non-SBC churches over the years including: FBC Sanford, NC (SBC), Cool Springs Baptist Church (SBC), as well as Taylors Chapel Baptist Church, a historically African-American Baptist congregation. My responsibilities include:

- Loving/Shepherding the Sheep - leading by example in terms of fulfilling Christ command to love one another (John 13:35), bearing one another's burdens (Gal 6:2); and visiting the hurting, downtrodden, and the sick (Matt 25:35–40). Showing/modeling for others how to do the same in an intentional way
- Preaching the Word - (2 Tim 4:2) - faithfully praying, preparing, and boldly proclaiming the Word of God through expository preaching: book-by-book, verse-by-verse
- Making Disciples - leading by example (1 Pet 5) in the task of evangelism and disciple-making through prayer and the various teaching ministries of the church; implementing an intentional outreach program to reach the lost in proximity to Mays Chapel and surrounding communities
- Administration of the Sacraments - faithfully and regularly administering the biblical sacraments of baptism (immersion) and the Lord's Supper, which are visible sermons of the love, mercy, and grace, and obedience we are to have toward Christ and He has toward us
- Leading by Example in Servant Leadership - modeling the principles of 1 Peter 5 and Mark 10:45 to the congregation, creating future leaders in the congregation via an every-member ministry (2 Tim 2)
- Church Revitalization - help congregation remember its redemptive history, and to recover its mission and vision for Christ within the Bear Creek and surrounding communities

- Communications - help church establish its identity through the gifts the Lord has given me in marketing and advertising—including the gospel-centric design of a logo, website, door hangers for visitation, and other evangelistic media to reach the unchurched for Christ, and to tell the wonderful story of how God has used this historic church for over 200 years.

Union Chapel Baptist Church (SBC), Zebulon, NC: 01/2014 – 11/2016

Associate Pastor | Mentor: Dr. Gregory Lawson, Pastor and Professor of Christian Education at SEBTS

- Led presentations/lectures/discussions for multiple Ph.D. seminars

Docent Research Group

Contract Researcher: 02/2016 – Present

I began working as a contract researcher for Docent Research Group (<http://www.docentgroup.com>) in February 2016. Docent is an Austin-based, Christian, non-profit organization, and I perform work on research briefs and book projects for some of the most well-known pastors and Christian authors in the U.S. Docent provides seminary-trained teams providing customized research, meeting specific needs of evangelical church pastors and staff across a variety of denominations. Currently, I work as a Solo/Lead Researcher on the account of Dr. Bob McCartney, Sr. Pastor of FBC Wichita Falls, TX. Prior to this role, I worked with Ryan Rice (N. Valley Community Church, Phoenix, AZ), and Kevin Cawley (Redeemer Fellowship, Kansas City, MO)

Peter Lang International Academic Publishers

Contract Peer-Reviewer of Manuscript Proposals: 02/2019 – Present

I have been contracted by Peter Lang to provide peer-review services for book proposals in their Studies in Biblical Greek \(SBG\) monograph series, which seeks to publish the latest scholarly research advancements in biblical studies regarding the exegesis and pedagogy of Old and New Testament Greek. From the publisher's website: "[This] series is devoted to fresh philological, syntactical, text-critical, and linguistic study of the Greek of the biblical books, with the subsidiary aim of displaying the contribution of such study to accurate [biblical] exegesis."

Intersect Project (Kern Foundation/SEBTS)

Contract Researcher/Writer: 08/2017 – Present

I received funding from the Intersect Project (Kern Foundation) to contribute three peer-reviewed, e-published articles in their FWE Curriculum Project, which is slated to be expanded and published as an edited anthology.

CFC Mentorship Program

Mentee: 08/2018 – 05/2019

I was invited to join SEBTS' Center for Faith and Culture's (CFC) mentorship program in which a small group of students are directly mentored by CFC Director, Senior Professor of Theology, and holder of the Jesse Hendley Endowed Chair of Biblical Theology, Dr. Kenneth Keathley. The theme for this year's study is the intersection of Christianity and the Arts. I have e-published two peer-reviewed, articles (Fall, 2018) highlighting the intersection of theology and the arts on the Intersect Project's website as part of the requirements of this program.

Acton Institute

Conference Participant: 08/2019 – Present

I was invited to participate in Acton's City FAVS: New York City conference held Sept. 05–07, 2019 in Jersey City, NJ. All conference, transportation, food, and lodging costs were covered by Acton. As a participant, I helped to envision a new framework for examining complex problems facing today's city, built upon a foundation of theological and economic clarity. I networked with other catalysts and urban ministry pioneers, grounded discussion in continued emphasis on real world applications of biblical principles to concrete problems such as unemployment, homelessness, fatherlessness, gentrification, neighborhood displacement, addiction, racism, etc., and developed leadership capacity through the resources offered for each session.

Inservimus, the Ph.D. students' academic journal at SEBTS

Vice President: 01/2016 – 8/2017 (edited, designed, and e-published journal)
