Pedagogical Training:

- Teaching Sensitive Course Content
- Course Design with Universal Design Principles
- Assigning and Assessing Student Writing
- Writing Effective Multiple Choice Exams
- Students in Distress

The Teaching Enrichment Series at UMN has helped me to prepare courses to be more inclusive to students' different backgrounds, particularly in terms of race, gender, and ability, as well as how to handle situations with students who need certain accommodations. These seminars (a sample listed above) have also prepared me to create courses and assignments that are more engaging for the students, helping to spark their interest in the subjects without diminishing scholastic value.
