

GRADUATE STUDENT JOB/CAREER WORKSHOPS

TRANSLATING THE MA/PHD BEYOND FACULTY CAREERS

FEBRUARY 11,
6:00-7:30PM

We'll discuss skills assessment and translation work—identifying what you can do and how you can articulate those skills to different audiences. We will consider the work you have done as a graduate student (e.g., in a RAsip, TAsip), and think about how to describe this work experience and related skills on your resume, your CV, and in other application materials for jobs beyond faculty careers.

LOOKING BEYOND THE ACADEMIC JOB MARKET

MARCH 18,
6:00-7:30PM

We'll explore jobs and job markets--ways of "seeing" organizations, companies, nonprofits, and more, and thinking about job titles and work within these places. We'll also look specifically at how to navigate and network within professional organizations, job boards, and databases, along with dissecting a few example job ads.

NAVIGATING INTERVIEWS... AND AFTER

APRIL 15,
6:00-7:30PM

We'll discuss how to best prepare for job interviews, including anticipating and practicing for the questions you might be asked. We'll practice responses that share insight into your skills, capacities, and experiences. We'll also explore MSU resources for preparing and practicing, and we'll discuss after-the-interview activities (from saying thanks to negotiating a job offer).

BROUGHT TO YOU BY:

*The MSU Graduate School
MSU Department of Writing,
Rhetoric, and American
Cultures
MSU Department of English*

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

TRANSLATING THE MA/PHD BEYOND FACULTY CAREERS

We'll discuss skills assessment and translation work—identifying what you can do and how you can articulate those skills to different audiences. We will consider the work you have done as a graduate student (e.g., in a RAship, TAship), and think about how to describe this work experience and related skills on your resume, your CV, and in other application materials for jobs beyond faculty careers.

Thursday, February 11, 6:00-7:30PM

Zoom Meeting ID: 969 8202 4668 Passcode: 046368

Full URL: <https://msu.zoom.us/j/96982024668>

Brought to you by: The MSU Graduate School MSU
Department of Writing, Rhetoric, and American Cultures MSU
Department of English